Please contact Jan Kessler (914-462-7649) or email jkessny@aol.com when you know of a member who is ill, in the hospital, or has passed away. We want to be sure to remember them.

Please continue to pray for the speedy recovery of both Violet Nelida Kelly and Julia Winter.

KOLPing LENTEN PROJECT
All or our Kolping members have the opportunity to contribute to a project that promotes the teachings of Father Kolping and demonstrates the commitment of our members to his work—we call this our Lenten Project. At our convention in New York, delegates voted to support a national effort to contribute to one of the projects run by Kolping International—Live-stock farming in Kenya. Kolping International invites Kolping members in Kenya to participate in a program that aims to teach the skills needed to raise goats, produce milk and utilize dung by-products for sale, use and sustainability. Kolping Kenya has existed since the mid 1980s and currently includes over 3,500 in five different regions. In a highly agriculture-dependent country, raising goats can mean the difference between living in poverty and enjoying a simple life. We can make a difference for these Kolping members and show them our support! We hope all Kolping members will consider donating at least $10 towards this Lenten Project.

Here is a website that will provide all the details about the project: https://www.kolping.net/en/how_you_can_support_us/projects_worldwide/africa.html

Please note that all donations can be mailed to Catholic Kolping Society of America, PO Box 4907, Clifton, NJ 07015-4907. There is a self addressed envelope that is included in the National Banner for your convenience. Thank you to everyone for your support.

Yorkville was once an internationally famous section in New York City from the 30s through the 60s known as Yorkville/Kleindeutschland. Settled by a population of middle and eastern european countries, its largest ethnic group was German speaking. In keeping with tradition, an effort was started in 1990 by the Yorkville Kleindeutschland Historical Society to preserve some of Yorkville’s heritage, now lost forever, through our language club.

We are a 27 year old co-operative of students and teachers who wish to preserve the study of the German language and culture in an informal environment. The fee is $475.00 for the 15 week, 30 hour course. Students may join during a semester at a pro-rated rate.

Our club makes no profit. We are supported solely by our members, and we offer German learning opportunities, and social and cultural events. We also march in the German/American Steuben parade every September. Friends and family of students and teachers are invited to join in the parade and all the festivities during german/american month.

No trying out of classes
“Keep a book, and someday it may keep you.” This observation could be used to describe the ribald life of 1930-1960 film starlet Mary Astor (1906-1987).

Firstly, Mary Astor was her stage name; in real life, she was Lucile Langhanke, a German-American girl from Brooklyn. She was attractive, talented, and accessible. The model of propriety on stage; off stage she was known to be a drinker, curser, and morally loose. She even kept a diary of her encounters with leading stars. She was to regret this volume.

It was the 1930s, and the Catholic Legion of Decency and other purest groups kept close watch over the content of movies and the reputation of the actors cast in the sensitive roles.

Mary and her second husband, Dr. Franklyn Thorpe, sued for a divorce. She wanted custody of their daughter, too. But, Thorpe, who had seized the book, was going to use her liaisons as proof that she was “an unfit mother.” The movie industry feared that what was disclosed would be thought typical of stars off-stage.

The Hollywood courts were sympathetic to the movie industry. How did the judge conduct the hearing so as to cause minimal damage to the image of actors and actresses?

For that answer, you will have to purchase the book Mary Astor’s Purple Diary: The Great American Sex Scandal of 1936, by Edward Sorel. Writer/director Woody Allen did not want to spoil the story for readers, so he glossed over it in his New York Times book review.

At any rate, Astor went back to making pictures; and, years later published her raunchy memoirs to no great consternation. Society had changed; and Mary Astor profited off the spoils.

2017 Topic: Peace Prayer of St. Francis of Assisi: Lord, make me an instrument of thy peace. Where there is hatred, let me sow love; Where there is injury, pardon; Where there is doubt, faith; Where there is despair, hope; Where there is darkness, light; Where there is sadness, joy. O Divine Master, grant that I may not so much seek to be consoled as to console; To be understood as to understand; To be loved as to love; For it is in giving that we receive; It is in pardoning that we are pardoned; And it is in dying to self that we are born to eternal life.

How would you put the words of St. Francis of Assisi’s Peace Prayer into your home life, your school life, and your personal life?
