KOLPING LENTEN PROJECT

All or our Kolping members have the opportunity to contribute to a project that promotes the teachings of Father Kolping and demonstrates the commitment of our members to his work—we call this our Lenten Project. At our convention in New York, delegates voted to support a national effort to contribute to one of the projects run by Kolping International—Live-stock farming in Kenya. Kolping International invites Kolping members in Kenya to participate in a program that aims to teach the skills needed to raise goats, produce milk and utilize dung by-products for sale, use and sustainability. Kolping Kenya has existed since the mid 1980s and currently includes over 3,500 in five different regions. In a highly agriculture-dependent country, raising goats can mean the difference between living in poverty and enjoying a simple life. We can make a difference for these Kolping members and show them our support! We hope all Kolping members will consider donating at least $10 towards this Lenten Project.

Here is a website that will provide all the details about the project:

https://www.kolping.net/en/how\_you\_can\_support\_us/projects\_worldwide/africa.html

Please note that all donations can be mailed to Catholic Kolping Society of America, PO Box 4907, Clifton, NJ 07015-4907. There is a self addressed envelope that is included in the National Banner for your convenience. Thank you to everyone for your support.

Yorkville was once an internationally famous section in New York City from the 30s through the 60s known as Yorkville/Kleindeutschland. Settled by a population of middle and eastern European countries, its largest ethnic group was German speaking. In keeping with tradition, an effort was started in 1990 by the Yorkville Kleindeutschland Historical Society to preserve some of Yorkville's heritage, now lost forever, through our language club.

We are a 27 year old co-operative of students and teachers who wish to preserve the study of the German language and culture in an informal environment. The fee is $475.00 for the 15 week, 30 hour course. Students may join during a semester at a pro-rated rate.

Our club makes no profit. We are supported solely by our members, and we offer German learning opportunities, and social and cultural events. We also march in the German/American Steuben parade every September. Friends and family of students and teachers are invited to join in the parade and all the festivities during German/American month.

Her “Little Black Book” submitted by Martin A. Kelly

Woody Allen Reviews a Graphic Tale of a Scandalous Starlet

From “Mary Astor’s Purple Diary”

“Keep a book, and someday it may keep you.” This observation could be used to describe the ribald life of 1930-1960 film starlet Mary Astor (1906-1987).

Firstly, Mary Astor was her stage name; in real life, she was Lucile Langhanke, a German-American girl from Brooklyn. She was attractive, talented, and accessible. The model of propriety on stage; off stage she was known to be a drinker, curser, and morally loose. She even kept a diary of her encounters with leading stars. She was to regret this volume.

It was the 1930s, and the Catholic Legion of Decency and other purest groups kept close watch over the content of movies and the reputation of the actors cast in the sensitive roles.

Mary and her second husband, Dr. Franklyn Thorpe, sued for a divorce. She wanted custody of their daughter, too. But, Thorpe, who had seized the book, was going to use her liaisons as proof that she was “an unfit mother.” The movie industry feared that what was disclosed would be thought typical of stars off-stage.

The Hollywood courts were sympathetic to the movie industry. How did the judge conduct the hearing so as to cause minimal damage to the image of actors and actresses?

For that answer, you will have to purchase the book Mary Astor’s Purple Diary: The Great American Sex Scandal of 1936, by Edward Sorel. Writer/director Woody Allen did not want to spoil the story for readers, so he glossed over it in his New York Times book review.

At any rate, Astor went back to making pictures; and, years later published her raunchy memoirs to no great consternation. Society had changed; and Mary Astor profited off the spoils.

FEAST OF ST. JOSEPH: Patron of the Catholic Kolping Society

Whether alone, or with family, or with other Kolping friends, we celebrate the Feast of our patron of our Kolping Families thought the world, by meditating on or reciting the prayer:

Good Saint Joesph, when God wanted a Family for His Son, He looked among the laborers, and chose you along with Mary, demonstrating His esteem for human work. You put your heart into your work, and shared your workshop with Jesus. Your work like that of other humans, found new meaning in the presence of God. Sustain us in the hope of finding work whine we are confronted with the desolation of unemployment. Counsel business leaders to create an equitable division of labor that is respectful of individuals, and promotes our growth and happiness. Help us to perform our work joyfully, conscientiously, fairly and honestly. Prepare our hearts to recognize your Son in our colleagues at work. AMEN.
