News & Notes

KOLPING FAMILY WEEKEND

We were lucky enough to have a perfect rain-free weekend to enjoy the Kinder Olympics and Family Campout at Kolping-on-Hudson. Look for the complete story and photos in the following pages. We wanted to share with you the recipe for Monkey Bread. The kids enjoyed making it in cardboard boxes covered in tin foil...their home-made ovens!

6 cans of refrigerator raw biscuits
Cinnamon
Sugar
2 stick butter or margarine
Chopped nuts (optional)

Separate biscuits, cut into quarters and roll into small balls. Dip the balls into the butter, roll in cinnamon and sugar. Dip in nuts. Put biscuit balls into a bunt pan. Pour any remaining butter into the pan. Cook in box oven at 350° for at least 40 minutes. Let cool. Then everyone sits around and picks at the bread like a bunch of monkeys!

OKTOBERFEST AT KOLPING-ON-HUDSON

We will have an "official" write-up on the October Bulletin, but a few words of thanks were sent in by Jennifer Ahrens:

We would like to say thank you to Kurt Kampp and Fritz Scheuermann for grinding the 180 pounds of potato for the potato pancakes, thank you to Mike Scheuermann, Al Ahrens and Brian Stults for transporting the grill between the German club and the Kolping and thanks to the German American Social Club of Peekskill for letting us borrow the grill! Thanks to Erica Arborn, Taryn Leung, Kelly Leung, Travis Prikryl and Evelyn Ahrens for cooking up the potato pancakes—what a treat!

We also would like to extend a special thank you to Manfred Gallwitz for helping us bring the much-missed plum cake back! After several years of 'No, I am sorry there is no plum cake this year', and the frowns that followed, the planets aligned and the italian plums were actually available! We are extremely grateful that he came to Kolping and baked the cakes, shared his recipes and techniques not only for the blueberry cake we enjoyed on Tropical Night but also for the plum cake that received rave reviews at Oktoberfest! Sixty pounds of plums and 6 sheet pans of cake later, only crumbs remained—all was sold out! Thanks to Christel and Fritz Scheuermann, Helmi Pinner, Phylis Coletti, Doris Petsche, Evelyn Ahrens, Kathy Weinborg and Jennifer Scheuermann for helping with preparing the plums and assembling the cakes, etc. Hooray for Plum Cake!

2008 Our Family Campout & Chili Cook-Off

With about 13 campsites set up, a nice warm fire and plenty of great company, about 40 campers enjoyed the evening – and there was still plenty room for more! It was another great time camping out on the beautiful Kolping property alongside the historic Hudson River! The Kinder Olympics drew to close around 3:30 PM and slowly the tents started to appear along with crock-pots and Dutch ovens full of chili in preparation for the Chili Cook-off. There were 8 entries for the Chili Cook-off contest: Brett LaRoque, Liz McGuigan, Gary Ostroff, Jen Scheuermann, Gerhard Schmitt, Stefan Weber, Kathy Weinborg, Kelly Weinborg. Everyone was given one ticket to vote for his or her favorite chili. Competition was as hot as Stefan's chili (#1)! Flavors ranged from the sublime to subtle notes of chocolate and coffee to flaming hot – yeah, thanks Stefan!

Here are the results: Tied for 1st place with 7 votes: Liz McGuigan and Gary Ostroff. Runner-up with 6 votes: Kelly Weinborg. The winners' names were added to the cook-off trophies. After all of the tents were set up and people recovered from the chili-tasting contest, the children learned how to make Monkey Bread in an outdoor cardboard oven.

The kids were divided into three teams and each team had an oven. With the help of Kathy, Alex and Jen, each team covered their oven with aluminum foil and inserted two hangers to make a rack in the oven. Preheated charcoal was used for heating. The kids mixed the monkey bread dough (recipe on page 3) and put the batter into greased bundt pans to bake for about 45 minutes. It was a nice warm treat to enjoy by the fire. An after dark trail hike led by Gerhard Schmitt had the kids all donning glow necklaces and flashlights. We all then relaxed by the fire with song and delectable s'mores melting upon a bed of graham cracker.

The sun was up early and we all enjoyed a buffet breakfast prepared by Kathy and Doris of scrambled eggs, bacon, sausage, French toast sticks and croissants to help refuel and soak up the night's memories!

A HUGE THANKYOU goes out to all of the families and friends that participated in Kinder Olympics and Family Campout! Thank you to all of you who donated money and various culinary delights, and for helping whenever and wherever help was needed during this two-day affair! A special thank you to the Kolping Society, Heidi and Doris for making this all possible! This weekend continues to be a success because of you – the members and friends of the Kolping Society! THANK YOU ALL FOR YOUR HELP AND SUPPORT!!!

The 2009 Kolping Kinder Olympics will mark the 10th annual Kinder Olympics! Plans are under way for a special edition of the Kolping Kinder Olympics. Please send us your comments or suggestions for special events or activities. We are also looking for suggestions for the next food choice for the cook-off. Please contact Jen at jennifer.ahrens@verizon.net | 845-628-1483 with your ideas/comments.

Stories of Interest

CLARK GABLE

submitted by Martin A. Kelly

They called him "The King" in Hollywood; and, in many ways, he was. (William) Clark Gable was born on February 1, 1901, in Cadiz, Ohio of German (Pennsylvania Dutch) descent. He left high school intent on a career in acting, but his talents were few. In despair, he worked back stage jobs that held little promise.

In 1923, his break came when he met and married Josephine Dillon, an acting teacher, in 1930. They divorced seven years later; but, not before Clark, had acquired enough stage skills to handle supporting roles in Hollywood and on Broadway.

In 1937, Clark married a wealthy Texas socialite, Maria Langham and his career began to soar. He played the lead in many romance films that helped to console the depression – stricken audiences seeking a diversion from their troubles.

Some of Clark's more memorable roles were: The romantic lead in "It Happened One Night" opposite Claudette Colbert. Both stars felt the movie would "bomb," but were elated to learn it was the Academy Award winner (1934). In 1935, he played one of his memorable roles as Fletcher Christian, the humane ship's officer, in "Mutiny on the Bounty." In 1939, he portrayed Rhet Butler in the unforgettable "Gone with the Wind."

Having had two ill-fated marriages, both to women much older, he married actress Carole Lombard, seven years younger. It was a marriage made in heaven; but, so much more was his sorrow, when she died tragically in an air crash returning from a war bond selling tour in February 1942.

Clark enlisted the Army Air Force and he flew on many missions, as a radio operator, over Occupied Europe. Later, he would make instructional films for new recruits. He was heard to mention he did not want to be a prisoner – of-war because of his charisma and German American heritage, he would be displayed as a victory trophy. After the war, he resumed his career and continued to woo audiences. He died November 10, 1960.

Laughter

submitted by Katherine Weigand

A LOADED MINIVAN pulled into the only remaining campsite. Four children leaped from the vehicle and quickly began unloading gear and setting up the tent. The boys rushed to gather firewood, while the girls and their mother set up the camp stove and cooking utensils. A nearby camper marveled to the youngsters' father, "That, sir, is some display of teamwork." The father replied, "I have a system. No one goes to the bathroom until the camp is set up."

MOM AND DAD tried to console their young son, but the boy would have none of it. "You know, Jeffrey," his father said, "it's not your fault the dog died. He's probably up in heaven right now with God." Jeffrey retorted, "What would God want with a dead dog?"

THE BUSINESSMAN dragged himself home and barely made it to his chair before he dropped down, exhausted. His sympathetic wife was right there with a cool drink and a comforting word. "My, you look tired," she said. "You must have had a hard day today. What happened to make you so exhausted?" "It was terrible," her husband said. "The computer broke down, and we had to do our own thinking."

THE ZIP CODE in Washington, D.C., is being changed to 00000. Nothing there adds up, anyway.

"NOW, THEY LOOK like a happily married couple," the husband remarked. "Don't be too sure, dear," his wife replied. "They're probably saying the same thing about us."

'BOY, IT IS HARD to keep up with all these crises we have in America. Remember last week, when everybody in America was obese? Remember that? This week there's a food shortage. What happened over the weekend? Did we pig out and eat all the food?"
