Kolping Christmas/St. Nikolaus Party

submitted by Jan Kessler ~~~ photos submitted by Jan Kessler, Maria Stang, and John Noonan

All those that attended had a really great time and we want to thank all of the Kolping House Staff for all the preparations and planning of a very festive event. Every year so many of us look forward to the St. Nikolaus party where we meet up with old friends and meet many new ones. During the course of the day we honor many of the long time members who are reaching membership milestones, new members are welcomed in, there are raffle tickets and door prizes along with St. Nick making his appearance to the delight of all the children waiting so patiently to see him. Giovanni and Wolfgang prepared a delicious dinner serving over 100 people! A special thank you to all the 88th St. staff: Wolfgang, Giovanni, Ray, Ken, Miquel, Gilbert and Maximo for all their hard work in setting up the tables and decorations, preparing a delicious meal and for all the clean up work they do after our celebration is over.

It was the 2nd Sunday of Advent and Fr. Bretone took time out of his busy schedule to celebrate mass with us. We were so pleased that Dagmar & Don Simons were able to join us. Don played the accordion and provided us with beautiful music during mass and our festivities. Thank you to Ted & Joan Dengler, Christine Preisser, and Teddy Dengler, Jr. for helping with the readings and collections at mass.

Fr. Bretone along with Katrina Dengler, Gerhard Schmitt and Lou Colletti inducted 8 new members into our Kolping family. The new members are: Brian & Eileen Bingay, Jason & Therese Sinks with daughters Carolina & Elizabeth, Patrick & Lauren Doherty with daughters Olivia & Sarah, Christopher Ulrich and Ericka Tompkins. We look forward to seeing them at all of our upcoming Kolping events.

A big thanks to Donna Richardson for shopping for all the great gifts. Nick Colletti was our St. Nick. The children were so excited when St. Nick arrived with gifts for all. The children sang Christmas songs and some of them performed solos.

Every year Al Sartorius and John Noonan help with the meal tickets and door prizes. Bob & Ann Hemsing transport all the St. Nick toys and Christmas baked goods to the Kolping House. Lou Colletti and Maria Stang coordinated the 50/50 raffle ticket sales. Kolping member Klaus Wolters was the winner and the other half of the proceeds benefits the Advent Project. The door prizes were won by Ada Brauweiler and Frances Schulte. Teddy Dengler was not only St. Nick's helper but he sold the baked goods. Therese Portilla helped collect all the meal tickets. They were both very helpful and we appreciated all that they did.

Katrina Dengler announced the Persons of the Year Award. The awards are given each year to those members who have contributed many hours of volunteer time and also serve on many of our committees. Cecilia Portilla received her award for all her work on the radio project, serving on the board of directors, easter egg hunt, and serving as a delegate for our Kolping National Convention. Gerry Laudendorf received the person of the year award for the many hours that he has volunteered at the many Kolping events at Kolping House and Kolping on Hudson. We are very proud of all our volunteers that help out at all our events and serve on committees.

Katrina Dengler introduced all our honorary members and those in attendance were Robert & Ann Hemsing, Albert & Anita Buchholz, Albert Sartorius, John Noonan and Valentine Sartorius. Congratulations to Norbert Dengler and Horst Schmitt who celebrated their 65 year membership.

Peter Buchholz, Christine Weltner and Bud Gramer all celebrated their 25 year membership milestones and received a certificate and 25 membership year pin. Marion Ulrich was also a 25 year member but passed away a short time ago and many of her family members were there in her honor. Marion's grandson Christopher Ulrich was inducted as a new member.

Thank you to Jennifer Ahrens Scheuermann who ordered all the special german goodies that we all enjoy so much. Klaus Wolters, Gertrude Mohapp, Lou Colletti, Nick Colletti all arrived early to help with setting up the baked goods table and all of the last minute preparations. Wolfgang Hahn always remembers to buy the chocolate Santa candies for the children.

We are blessed to have such a great staff and volunteers that go above and beyond to make the St. Nick party such a memorable event.

Kolping-on-Hudson Tree Cutting submitted by Lou Colletti

Almost two years ago lightning struck our Mighty Great Oak at KOH. It was on the field by our Madonna. In May we had a Blessing of the Tree, with Holy Water from Lourdes in France & the Bronx. We hoped it would come back healthy this past spring, but on December 12, the time had come to take it down. It was a Red Oak approximately 125 years old & 54 feet tall. Perhaps our Blessing & Prayers worked because all the wood isn't rotted. Hopefully it can be used to make a table. A big thank you to Richie Povilonis, Joe Szoldatits & Peter Mersits who assisted the professional climbers from Long Island Best Tree Service. Also thank you to Brian Smith, an Arborist & Kolping Member who documented with video, photos & information about the tree. Last but not least, thanks to Heidi for preparing lunch for the crew. When you are at Kolping next year make sure to ask Heidi to show the part of the tree where lightning struck. Check out these two links to see the videos: <http://youtu.be/5wYliHNvAgc> and http://youtu.be/af-9__cdZtU.

Stories of Interest

Lorenz Brentano (1813-1891) submitted by Martin A. Kelly

A casual observer might surmise that since the Third Reich advocated the “master race” theory, the Germans who settled in America in the 19th century would have supported slavery. Nothing could be further from the truth. The newly arrived German immigrants were believers in equal rights and gravitated to the Republican Party and its platform on abolition.

Leaders of these immigrants were refugees from totalitarianism based on nobility back home. For example, Lorenz Brentano was born in Mannheim, Grand Duchy of Baden on Nov 4, 1813. He was educated in the liberal arts, which preached “Liberty, Equality, and Fraternity”. Their concepts ran head-on against the Aristocratic rule based on noble birth.

Brentano was elected to the Chamber of Deputies and in 1848 to the Frankfurt Parliament. He served as president of the provisional republic of Baden established by the revolutionists in 1849. He was sentenced to imprisonment for life after the failure of the revolution, but sought refuge in the United States via Switzerland.

He established Der Leuchtturm, a German anti-slavery journal, in Pottsville, Pennsylvania. He settled in Kalamazoo County, Michigan, and engaged in agricultural pursuits. He moved to Chicago, Illinois, in 1859. He was admitted to the bar in 1859 and commenced practice in Chicago. He became editor-in-chief and principal proprietor of the Illinois Staats-Zeitung from 1862 to 1867.

Brentano sought public service and was a representative in the Illinois State Legislature, head of Chicago Board of Education, and, also U.S. Congressman (1876-1879). A staunch Republican, he had a test of character late in his career. Should he endorse the Republican nominee for president, James Blaine, when such a person was a philander and miscreant? Brentano decided to endorse the Democrat, Grover Cleveland who, by comparison was “squeaky clean”. It was the right choice. In his two non-consecutive terms, Cleveland exercised superb administrative skills.

Brentano died in Chicago in 1891. Apparently Germany's loss was America's gain
